IFSL atomos Growth Fund Class B Shares

A Sub-fund of IFSL atomos OEIC (ISIN Accumulation: GB00BMDKKP57)

This Fund is managed by Investment Fund Services Limited (IFSL)

Objectives and Investment Policy

Objective: The aim of the Fund is to grow the value of your investment over a period of at least 5 years. This growth is expected to come from a combination of profit on investments and income paid out of investments, such as interest and dividends.

Management style: The Investment Manager actively manages the Fund, deciding which investments to buy or sell and when.

Policy: At least 70% of the Fund will be invested in other funds, including exchange traded funds and investment trusts. This may include other funds managed by the Authorised Corporate Director or Investment Manager. The Fund follows a higher risk strategy, with 70-100% exposure to shares in companies.

Up to 30% of the Fund will be exposed to bonds, which are loans typically issued by companies and governments. This may include investment grade bonds, where the issuer has a higher capacity to repay the debt, as well as sub-investment grade bonds, which can be more vulnerable to changing market conditions but typically pay a higher rate of interest.

The Fund may also invest:

- up to 20% in money market instruments, which are shorter term loans; and
- property and commodities, such as gold and oil up to a maximum of 30%. Although the Fund will have exposure to no more than 10% in any one commodity type or physical property.

The Fund may gain exposure to the above assets by investing directly (other than in respect of property or commodities).

The Fund will invest globally, with no more than 30% in emerging or frontier markets.

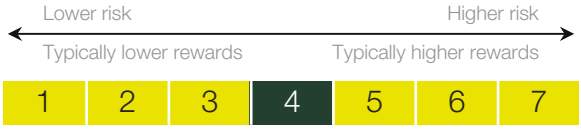
The Fund may use or have exposure to derivatives and structured products (instruments whose returns are linked to another asset or other variable factor such as exchange rates or stock markets) for the purposes of efficient portfolio management (including hedging) and for meeting the investment objectives of the Fund. It is expected the use of derivatives will not have a significant impact on the risk profile of the Fund.

The Fund may hold up to 20% in cash.

Assessing performance: The trade body, Investment Association (IA), groups funds into sectors based on similar characteristics. This Fund belongs to the IA Flexible Investment sector, which you can use to compare performance. The Fund may have an asset allocation which is different to the average of the sector, this should be taken into consideration when comparing performance.

Other information: Income is not distributed but is rolled up (accumulated) into the value of your investment. You can buy or sell all or part of your investment on any business day subject to the minimum holding requirements.

Risk and Reward Profile



Investments can go up and down in value and you could get back less than you put in.

This indicator aims to give you a measure of the price movement of this share class based on past data. It uses historic returns over the last five years. If five years' data is not available, simulated data based on a representative portfolio are used.

Past data may not be a reliable indication of the future risk profile of the Fund. The risk category may change in the future and is not guaranteed. The lowest category does not mean risk free.

This Fund has been measured as 4 because its investments have experienced moderate volatility in the past. The Fund's volatility is affected by various risks, including:

Market risk: The Fund is exposed to financial markets, and market conditions can change rapidly and without warning.

Smaller company risk: The Fund may be exposed to shares of smaller companies, which are typically riskier and harder to sell in difficult market conditions, compared to larger, more established companies.

Emerging market risk: The Fund may be exposed to emerging markets (a fast-growing economy with increased global trade, but isn't yet considered fully developed). Investments in these countries can be more volatile and less predictable than in more established markets, increasing risk.

Fixed income risk: The Fund may be exposed to bonds. The value of these investments can rise or fall due to factors including interest rates, inflation expectations and concerns about the borrower's ability to repay.

Foreign exchange (currency) risk: The Fund may be exposed to overseas markets and may be affected by changes in currency exchange rates.

Sub-investment grade bond risk: There is a greater chance that sub-investment grade bond issuers may not be able to pay income or repay the debt.

Liquidity risk: In difficult market conditions, the Fund may struggle to sell some investments at a fair price, or at all, due to reduced availability of buyers and sellers. This could reduce the Fund's value if investments cannot be sold at a fair price or may cause delays in getting your money back, when you want to sell.

Counterparty risk: The Fund relies on banks and other financial firms to carry out certain services. If one of these firms fails to meet its obligations, the Fund could lose money.

Derivative risk: The Fund may use financial contracts (known as derivatives) to manage risks, reduce costs, improve returns, or to help achieve its investment objective. However, derivatives may not perform as expected, and their use could lead to losses, including losses greater than the amount invested.

Operational risk: Failure in systems, people, or processes connected with the Fund's operation, including those related to the safekeeping of the Fund's investments, could lead to losses or inconvenience for investors.

Investors are encouraged to read the 'risk factors' section of the Fund's prospectus to find a more extensive list of the risks that apply to this Fund.
